Fairbanks-Adams.
"Elmwood," the home of Prof. and Mrs. Henry Fairbanks was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings of the year, when at high noon on Dec. 31, was solemnized the marriage of their daughter, Marion, to Chauncey Allen Adams, before a company of about 200 relatives and friends. The house was prettily decorated with evergreen, holly and mistletoe, and the ceremony was performed at an altar made of evergreen, palms, holly and poinsettias. The marriage service was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. Dr. S. G. Barnes of the South church, assisted by her father.

The bridal party descended the stairs to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin" played by Mrs. Joseph Fairbanks. In the bridal party were the two ushers, Charles G. Hale of Montreal and Paul F. Herriek of Springfield, Mass.

Following these came the six ribbon girls, Misses Margaret and Priscilla Brooks, Theodora Willard of Boston, Bertha Robinson of Brookline, Mass., Edith L. Stone and Winnifred S. Merrill.

They were followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Ethel E. Treat of Chelsea, Mass., and Miss Emma M. Adams of Contoocook, P. Q., a sister of the groom; the maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Fairbanks, sister of the bride, and a senior of Smith college; and the bride on the arm of her father. They were met at the altar by the groom and the best man, Murray G. Brooks of Montreal. The other two ushers were J. Francis Smith and Charles E. Palmer of St. Johnsbury. The bride was becomingly gowned in pearl white satin crepe, trimmed with rare old lace. She wore a veil, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor was dressed in pale blue satin and carried red roses. The bridesmaids' dresses were of corn color Dr. etoire satin, and the ribbon girls were dressed in white with pale blue ribbons. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Mrs. Henry G. Ely and Mrs. Charles H. Merrill poured the coffee. Mrs. Charles H. Stevens and Mrs. P. F. Hazen served, assisted by the following young people: Misses Mary L. Merrill, Katherine E. Eaton, Marion Park, Ruth B. Adams, Maud Barbour, and the members of the bride's Sunday school class, Nelson Park, Russell S. Adams, Samuel Mills, Arthur Little, Lyman H. Gale.

The decorations were in charge of Misses Caroline S. Woodruff, Caroline Ely, Helen Stevens, C. H. Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fairbanks and Miss E. L. Wilde.

The bride was generously remembered by many friends from far and near with rare and choice gifts. After a short tour they will be "at home" at 21 1/2 Main street. The bride is a graduate of Smith College in the class of 1903.

Since graduating from college she has assisted in the Fairbanks Museum, and is one of St. Johnsbury's most popular young ladies, prominent in its social and religious life. The groom has for the past year been secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., and during this time the work there has been thoroughly reorganized and successfully carried on. He was graduated from McGill University in Montreal in 1902.

The guests from out of town included the groom's father, Joseph Adams, Mrs. Adams and Miss Emma M. Adams of Contoocook, P. Q.; Gov. and Mrs. George H. Prouty of Newport, cousins of the bride; Mrs. James C. Alvord of Hopdale, Mass., and Miss Mary Lord Fairbanks of Boston, sister and niece of the bride; Miss Ethel E. Treat of Chelsea, Mass.; Misses Mary and Jennie Darling of Newbury; Miss Mary F. Jewett of Berkeley, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Stone and Theodore Stone of Pasadena, Cal.; Secretary Louis Hieb of Burlington; Mrs. Ashton R. Willard, Miss Theodora Willard and Albert L. Farwell of Boston; Miss Bertha Robinson of Brookline, Mass.; Paul F. Herriek of Springfield, Mass.; Charles G. Hale and Murray Brooks of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Irvine of Stanstead, P. Q., and Miss Cornelia Mattocks of Lyndon.

Week of Prayer.

The Protestant churches are observing the week of prayer by a series of union services. The first was held at the South church last evening, led by Rev. George W. C. Hill, his theme being "The Working of the Spirit for Conversion." Tonight both the North and South churches have their annual meetings, preceded by the supper and roll call. A meeting will be held Thursday evening at the North church, the speaker being Rev. Dr. S. G. Barnes and his theme being "Our Responsibility for the Coming of the Kingdom." The series closes Friday night with a service at Methodist church, led by Rev. J. M. Frost. The meeting will close in time to enable all to attend Mr. Plumley's lecture at the Y. M. C. A.

Spelling Schools.

The spelling schools now set for January are as follows: North Danville, 7; Danville Center, 8; Passumpsic 11; Danville Mountain, 14; Morse's Mills, 15; Harvey, 16; Barret Hill, 18; Waterford final, 21; Danville final, 26. The Danville final was postponed so as not to conflict with the prayer meetings of the 14th. The winners of the finals in the various towns will meet at St. Johnsbury, Saturday, Jan. 30, for contests in spelling and speaking.

Dr. Morgan's Show.

Stanley Opera House has been crowded each night for nearly two weeks to see the Morgan Show. Sisters Hess are clever artists and have a new specialty at each performance. Will Delano is a funny comedian—El Rami Zaranos is a wonderful manipulator. The moving pictures and dissolving views are the best ever seen here. Their engagement closes Saturday night with a grand jubilee. You can have a good time at the Morgan shows.

THE RESONANT CRY

of the fire chief, as he directs the firemen who are fighting against the entire destruction of your home, will ring in your years for some time to come.

IF YOU ARE INSURED you can easier recover from the shock and the loss, but despair will seize you if you have neglected this important feature, and you will face a hard battle. Get busy and take out a policy at once.
